

UNION IS ENJOINED TO END STRIKE AND STOP ITS BENEFITS

Judge Hitchcock, of Boston, Issues Sweeping Order Against Engravers.

FORBIDDEN TO FINE ITS OWN MEMBERS

Court Assumes General Body Has No Right to Interfere With Individuals.

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The most severe injunction ever issued against a labor union, forbidding it to continue with a strike and prohibiting the payment of strike benefits has been issued by Judge Hitchcock in the equity session of the superior court.

It was granted to the firm of Folsom & Sunergran. Seven other firms today petitioned the court for similar orders, directed against Photograph Engravers' Union, No. 3, of Boston.

Labor leaders here today denounced the injunction and declared that as a precedent it threatens the life of unions in America. It is believed a bitter fight will be made to have it declared unconstitutional.

The injunction is against George F. Lewis and others. The essential part of it reads:

Scope of Injunction.

"That an injunction issue, pendente lite, to remain in force until the further order of the court, or some justice thereof, restraining George F. Lewis, John McGuire, Lewis Kolmetz, and all the officers and members of the Photo-Engravers' Union, No. 3, of Boston, and each and every one of them, their agents, and servants, from interfering with the plaintiff's business by obstructing, annoying or interfering with any person or persons who are now or may hereafter be in their employment or desirous of entering the same; or any others, while entering or leaving the plaintiff's premises, or while proceeding to and from; or by intimidating by threats, gestures, language, conduct or otherwise any person or persons who are now or may hereafter be in the employment of the plaintiffs, or who may be desirous of entering the same, or by continuing or proceeding with the strike already called against the plaintiffs, or by paying to anyone any money, property or consideration to induce any persons to leave or refrain from entering the employment of the plaintiffs, or who may be desirous of entering the same, or by imposing any fine, punishment or discipline upon any person for entering or continuing such employment."

Theory of Court.

The position taken by the court in the decision is that a strike to be legal must be based upon some complaint of the employees themselves regarding the terms and conditions of their own employment, and that a strike instituted by a general body of men where there is no trouble with respect to individual employees, called merely for the purpose of compelling employers to sign an agreement with a labor union against their will is illegal.

The union by the order of the court has been enjoined from paying strike benefits. All of the new cases have been referred to a master for a hearing on Monday.

WILL WED BARRYMORE IN SPITE OF FATHER

Miss Catherine Harris, Declares Her Engagement to Matinee Idol.

NEW YORK HEIRESS VOICES DEFIANCE

Time Is Not Set, But She Says Marriage Will Take Place Soon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—"I am going to marry Jack Barrymore, in spite of all possible opposition from my father."

Miss Catherine Corri Harris, heiress, today made this statement at her New York home. Her father, Sidney Harris, a rich lawyer, frowns on the match between his daughter and the matinee idol, scion of the famous Drew-Barrymore theatrical family.

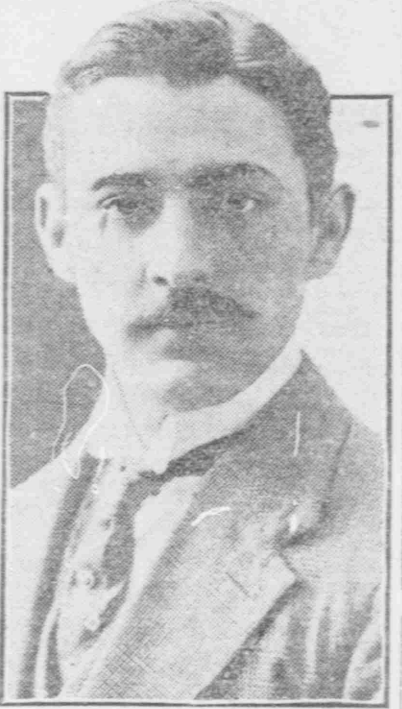

"It is perfectly true that Mr. Barrymore and I are engaged," continued Miss Harris. "We are to be married in the near future, although the details are not decided upon. I have known Mr. Barrymore for several years. We spent many delightful weeks together at Newport."

"My mother approves, and I don't think my father will object strenuously, after all. He fumed a bit in Paris over the match, but I believe time will change his opinion. However, objections or no objections, we are engaged and the ceremony will be performed in the near future."

Mr. Harris and the mother of the bride-to-be have been separated for nine years.

Mrs. Harris, who has agreed to the match of her daughter and the actor, was formerly on the stage herself, being known as Kitty Brady. She is the daughter of Judge Brady, at one time chief justice of the New York supreme court. It is said that Mrs. Harris hoped to marry and that the wedding took place the same day her sister married Albert Stevens, son of a New Jersey millionaire.

Mrs. Harris is understood to be wealthy in her own name, as she inherited something like $50,000 from Charles F. Daly, an uncle, some years ago.

JOHN BARRYMORE, Matinee Idol, Who Will Be Married To Miss Catherine C. Harris, Despite Her Father's Protests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were separated several times before they were divorced, and in 1888 there was an exciting race between the parents, each on a different Long Island railroad train for the possession of the daughter, who was then known as "Little Kitty."

Mrs. Harris is a pronounced blond, particularly pretty, and was the summer belle among the younger set at Newport two years ago, when she visited her aunt, Mrs. Brady Hall, who married Major Charles Hall, of the British army.

ADMITS SEEING TAFT, WHILE WITH SHERMAN

McGuire Asserts President Considered Fees Too Large for His Approval.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 6.—Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, called to the stand today before the committee investigating the charges of Senator Gore that he was offered a bribe of $50,000 to withdraw his opposition to the McMurray Indian land contracts, and naming Senator Curtis as one of the men interested in these contracts, declared that Gore's statements are absolutely without foundation so far as he was concerned.

"I am not now and never have been interested in the McMurray contracts, nor any other Indian contracts," Curtis testified. "I am a member of the Committee on Indian Affairs, and am acquainted with J. F. McMurray and Senator Gore, but so far as I remember I never met Jacob L. Hamon."

Visited Tafts With Sherman.

"In April I was informed that the President desired to see the Vice President and myself. I then went to Mr. Sherman's room, and we went to the White House together. The President asked what we knew about the proposed granting of the tribal rolls, and what we thought about it. I told the President I thought it would be a grave mistake for him to take a stand on the question. The President then asked me if I knew J. F. McMurray, and I told him that he had been an attorney for the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians for years."

What Gore Said.

Curtis said that Gore told the committee of the proposed demonstrations at San Sebastian tomorrow by the clericals, the ministry is today conceding the first victory in the contest between Spain and the Vatican.

In spite of the change in the Catholic plans, however, the orders preparing for the dispersal of the centers of disturbance have not been countermanded, although the force detailed to Bilbao and San Sebastian is not as heavy now as was at first planned.

Ill Usage, Bad Food and Water Denied on Ozark

Sweeping denial made of "deserters'" stories by Ozark crew.

Round robin signed protesting against stories and condemning actions of "deserters."

"Shipped on purpose to get work enough to harden my muscles, but have been disappointed," is statement of nineteen-year-old coal passer on Ozark.

"Deserters expected to be passengers of United States ship, and decided to quit when they found they had to work," statement of Captain Stratton.

Contrary to stories of "deserters," there has not been one officer or member of the Ozark crew in the brig or in irons since the cruise began two weeks ago.

One man with mangled finger and less than a dozen who have had slight attacks of stomach trouble or sunburn are the only members of the crew who had to receive treatment in the ship's hospital.

With a United States banner and not a "Jolly Roger" emblem of mutiny, flying from the masthead, the United States ship Ozark, carrying 200 happy and healthy officers and men of the District of Columbia National Guard Naval Battalion aboard, dropped anchor at the battalion wharf shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

With exclamations of joy at getting home and indignant denials of the charges by the five "deserters" that their food was bad, their treatment worse and the water unfit for use, the sailor boys trooped ashore and made for the street cars.

There was no sign of the mutinous, sullen-faced crew of broken down, underfed sailors that were described in the tales of horror told by the deserters who jumped ship at Annapolis.

Just as the final load of husky sailors citizens reached shore they gave cheers for Capt. Samuel Stratton, commander of the officers and then cheers for themselves.

Their looks and actions were strong enough denials in themselves without verbal ones that they had about the time of their young lives in the past two weeks they have been sailing the deep blue sea.

Two "Report Back." Burnett Hibbs and Frank Kenny, two of the youngsters who took leave from the Ozark at Annapolis last Monday, and who have since been in Washington telling how bad the food was on the Ozark, were on hand at the wharf to "report back," as a means of evading a charge of desertion.

Hibbs was in uniform, but Kenny was not. The three other deserters were seen about the wharf earlier in the day, but were not in evidence when the ship docked.

Major LeRoy Herron, inspector general of the militia, who boarded the Ozark at Indian Head last night to make an investigation, did not accompany the monitor to Washington. He left Indian Head today on one of the Government tugs, and will make a report at guard headquarters Monday.

Mr. Herron is said to have expressed himself as considering the conditions aboard the ship excellent. So angry are members of the battalion over the stories that this morning they got permission from Captain Stratton to circulate a petition telling protest against and condemnation of the "deserters."

Keep It a Secret. The round robin originated in the fo'castle and the engine rooms, and was kept a secret from the officers until it had been written in Washington and secured from every member of the crew to sign it. Then permission was obtained from Captain Stratton to pass it around.

These facts were established as the men circulated the round robin today. Five, and not twenty-five, as first stated.
